12 Cyberport Start-ups Featured on Tatler Gen.T List 2021

Hong Kong, 17 September 2021 – Cyberport is pleased to announce that 12 of its community start-ups are featured on the Tatler Gen.T List 2021. These start-ups cover a number of sectors, including FinTech, EdTech, Digital Entertainment and Esports, IoT, Blockchain, Smart Building and RetailTech. MediConCen is also an honouree of the Social Impact Awards, recognising the impact of its innovation on society. This year the Gen.T List features 300 Leaders of Tomorrow from Mainland China, Hong Kong, Indonesia, Malaysia, Philippines, Singapore, Thailand and Taiwan, among which 30 honourees are from Hong Kong.

All 12 Cyberport start-up honourees are current Cyberport incubatees and alumni of the Cyberport Incubation Programme (CIP), including MediConCen and Lynk of the FinTech cluster; Snapask and Cantab Star Education of the EdTech sector; Talon Esports and SyZyGy of the Digital Entertainment and Esports cluster; Farmacy HK, Gense Technologies and Rice Robotics of the IoT sector; D Labs Global of the Blockchain cluster; Dash Group Holdings which focuses on smart co-living concept; and Toby Technology (HK) of the RetailTech sector. (Please refer to Annex for details.)

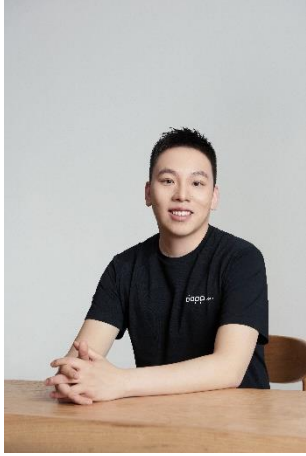

Eric Chan, Chief Public Mission Officer of Cyberport, said, "Hong Kong's innovation and technology sector is booming, and its start-ups continue to perform exceptionally well. This has not gone unnoticed by the international community. Tatler Gen.T's recognition towards Cyberport's start-ups is a strong affirmation for Cyberport's dedication to the cultivation of talents and start-ups, and speaks to the depth and breadth of Hong Kong's start-up community. Hong Kong is forging ahead to become an international innovation and technology hub. As Hong Kong's innovation and technology flagship, Cyberport will continue to support and promote the development of the I&T sector, thereby generating new impetus for Hong Kong's economy."

Since its launch in 2005, CIP has admitted over 900 technology start-ups. Among them, 73% have continued to operate for three years or more after graduation. Cyberport has, to date, hatched five unicorn start-ups, among which GOGO, Klook and TNG are alumni of CIP.

Introduced by Tatler Asia in 2016, Generation T (Gen.T) is a group of young entrepreneurs and creators in Asia, aged under 40 and coming from a variety of sectors, who are recognised for their common drive to excel and disruptive ideas.
